

SHOT AT THIEVES.

Two Policemen Have an Exciting Chase in Harlem.

Leary and McAvooy Had a Cache in a Pile of Rocks.

Quantities of Turkeys, Chickens and Geese Stowed Away.

Thomas Leary, twenty-six years old, of 178 Third avenue, and Frank McAvooy, twenty-nine years old, of 116 East End street, and nineteen street, were held in the Harlem Police Court this morning charged with having stolen a lot of chickens, turkeys and geese from Joseph Flaucher, a butcher, of 1491 Lexington avenue.

For the last week or ten days Flaucher has been selling poultry, and he made a complaint to the police of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station. Officers Blake and Blierhoff were sent to watch the store.

About 3 o'clock this morning Blake saw two men along Third avenue into Ninety-seventh street, carrying something bulky underneath their coats. The men went to Ninety-seventh street and Lexington avenue and disappeared behind a wall of large rocks.

The police made a hurried search of the rocks, but could find nothing. He returned to the store and saw several turkeys hanging over the transom of Flaucher's butcher shop. He saw the store was empty.

He summoned Blierhoff, and the two returned to the rocks at Ninety-seventh street and Lexington avenue, and he made a more thorough search. They found Leary and McAvooy, each carrying a chicken and started to run for Third avenue.

At Ninety-seventh street, Leary ran down Third avenue with Blierhoff in hot pursuit.

Leary was rapidly gaining on his pursuer and as he turned the corner of Ninety-seventh street, Blierhoff took two shots in rapid succession at him.

That only served to increase the fleeing Leary's speed. He ran into Ninety-fifth street and was well along towards Second avenue when Blierhoff, just turning the corner, fired two shots.

Leary stopped and the policeman placed him under arrest. In the mean time, Blierhoff was chasing away at McAvooy, who, after he reached Second avenue, turned towards Ninety-sixth street. After shooting to McAvooy to turn back, Blierhoff fired which had the effect of slackening McAvooy's speed perceptibly. When he reached Ninety-sixth street, the policeman overtook him.

Five shots in all had been fired at both men, and notwithstanding the early hour, an immense crowd collected and took part in the chase.

The chickens were dropped in the flight and were picked up by some pedestrians. When the policeman took the two men to the rocks at Ninety-seventh street they found stowed away four geese, twenty turkeys and six chickens.

Mr. Flaucher said that nearly $100 worth of poultry had been stolen from him within the past two weeks. Leary was served five years in Sing Sing for robbing a peddler. He was discharged from prison six months ago.

FORCED TO PROSECUTE.
Greenberg Wanted to Forgive His Chicken-Stealing Employees.

Simon Greenberg, a butcher, of 125 Willett street, made a charge of larceny against two of his former employees in Essex Market Police Court, today. They were Samuel Fish, eighteen years old, of 255 East Third street, and Louis Weiss, eighteen years old, of 732 Sixth street.

Greenberg charged them with breaking into his place and stealing a lot of live chickens. When Detective Donnelly, of the Union Market station, arrested the young men they confessed their guilt and returned the stolen chickens to the owner.

"Of course you don't," said Justice Voorhis. "All you wanted was your property. First of all, you stole the chickens and complain of being robbed, and when the thieves are arrested you refuse to prosecute because you profit by the return. It would be a nice state of affairs if I permitted such a thing, but I won't."

"Step down, sir, and make a charge against these fellows," said Justice Voorhis. "Justice Voorhis held the defendants for trial at General Sessions."

BANK SWINDLER IN CUSTODY.
Lewis Paquet's Scheme for Swindling Banks in Small Cities.

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ind., Dec. 22.—Lewis Paquet, of Chicago, a noted crook, is under arrest here for a swindle that he attempted to pull off on the local banks. His scheme is to visit small cities, open accounts in leading banks under assumed names, and after inspiring confidence by a system of checking and depositing money, suddenly flood the different institutions with worthless checks, and when they are returned, it would be a nice state of affairs if I permitted such a thing, but I won't."

BURGLAR IN A BARREL.
Michaels Heard a Noise and Found Wolf in His Cellar.

Joseph Wolf, twenty-two years old, of 312 Bowers, was held for examination in the Essex Market Court this morning.

Shortly after 10 o'clock last night he was found in the cellar of the premises at 340 Sixth street by Herman Michaels, who keeps a coffee saloon at that address.

Wolf entered the place by means of the scuttle on the sidewalk. The noise of replacing the scuttle to its proper position attracted the attention of Michaels, who found Wolf hiding in a barrel. Michaels, who keeps a coffee saloon at that address.

THINKS CONDON'S DROWNED.

Mr. Sentenne Corroborates Whelan's Man-in-Sewer Story.

Looking for Stray Jewelry and Perhaps Carried to the River.

Unless John Condon, not Conlin, as his name has been erroneously given so far, appears shortly in the flesh, many people will believe he has been washed away in the East Forty-second street sewer and drowned.

Condon is the sewer-cleaner who, his fellow-worker, William Whelan, declares lowered himself into the sewer in East Forty-second street on Saturday last, and has not since been seen. Whelan, who had been locked up in Yorkville prison Saturday, appeared in court yesterday afternoon. Judge Grady committed him for examination as to his sanity.

The latter's employer, E. H. Sentenne, of 229 Bleecker street, went before Justice Grady and upheld Whelan by saying that he formerly employed both Whelan and Condon to clean sewers, and that he believed Whelan's story to be absolutely correct.

Whelan explained why Condon went into the sewer. He was out of work and probably thought he might pick up something valuable in the dirt at the sewer's bottom. Many sewer men are in the habit of "sifting" dirt in this manner for lost pieces of jewelry, coins and the like.

Whelan's statement that Condon insisted on wearing a manhole cover down is explained by Mr. Sentenne. He says that Condon was afraid to go down without it, and that he believed Condon thought he chances of his discovery were very slight with the cover on.

All cases on this docket, except those of landlord and tenant, will be heard by Justice Moore in the Jefferson Market Court Building.

JUST MISSED DEATH.

A Catastrophe Barely Averted in the Florence Building.

Walls Trembled from the Crowd in the Fourth District Court.

Probable Panic Stayed by Justice Stecker.

The trial room of the Fourth District Court, in the old Florence Building, at First street and Second avenue, was packed with humanity at 12 o'clock this morning when a policeman elbowed his way through the crowd and whispered a few words to Civil Justice Alfred Stecker, who was presiding there.

The officer's face was pale and he was evidently much excited.

Justice Stecker, who was presiding there, looked up at the officer and asked: "What is the matter?"

"The building is shaking, and is likely to fall any minute."

Justice Stecker proved equal to the emergency. He secured the attention of the people in court by rapping vigorously for order, and then made this announcement: "The most matter-of-fact way imaginable."

The newly discovered evidence comes from the captain of a Halifax, N. S., ship.

It was intimate with Mr. Maybrick and says he often saw the deceased put a white powder into the food which he was eating on an oil stove, at his office.

The captain thought that the white powder was some peculiar kind of powder, and that it was arsenic, and added: "You must have something to keep yourself up. I take enough to kill you."

Everything that makes the wear and tear, too—there's no rub, rub, rubbing about it. It's absolutely safe. Remember that, if you've had your clothes eaten, frayed or ravelled by cheap imitations, Pearlina is as cheap as anything can be that is safe. It costs no more at the start than common soap—and it saves money from the minute you start with it.

Beware
Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you that Pearlina is as good as any other. It is not advertised as a cure-all. It is made of better materials than any other.

It can be taken by the most delicate when other emollients of plain Cod Liver Oil are intolerable.

SAVED HER FATHER.

Emma Snyder Carried Him Out of a Burning Tenement.

Panic in a Twelfth Street Crowded "Double-Decker."

Baby Injured by Its Mother's Fall While Going Down the Escape.

A fire of mysterious origin caused a panic in the crowded tenement-house 502 East Twelfth street early this morning, and but for its timely discovery would have caused great loss of life.

The tenement is a "double-decker" five-story brick building. In the neighborhood it is known as the "Home of the Old Folks." It derives this name from the fact of the number of aged people who have long lived under its roof.

Henry Snyder, the housekeeper, is past seventy years of age, and he has four tenants older than himself.

Mrs. Jennie Jameson, who lives on the third floor with her husband and two-year-old child, went out at 5 o'clock to the bakery.

She returned five minutes later, and as she ascended the stairs she smelled burning wood. When she reached the second floor she was met by a volume of smoke, which seemed to come from the rear of the house.

There are thirteen families in the house. Few of the people were awake. Mrs. Jameson first rushed to the door of her own room, and then, finding it locked, she started down the narrow winding stairs to the street.

By this time the smoke was blinding and suffocating. The old man was afraid to go to the door, and he was forced to carry him to the street.
